(2) The petition itself has to be stamped according

3) Kind attention is invited to the notes contained in ~~paragraphs~~ Ch 329-15 which give out reasons why Law does not encourage such things as gambling & lotteries.

In certain cases Government can authorise raising of funds by means of lottery as an exception to S. 294 A. I. P. C., Generally such exceptions are granted when ~~money collected~~ the proceeds are spent in public Charity or in benevolent acts as maintenance of Hospitals. &c

4) In the present circumstance, it is for the consideration Government to see whether the alleged undertaking of re-building a dilapidated temple at Chikballapur will come under the purview of a benevolent act, ~~assuming that~~. But, the letter is not clear as to the exact nature of the undertaking and does not even mention the Name of the temple which the applicant is so anxious to restore from utter decay.

5) Submitted as per orders above.

6) No proposal is opposed to public policy, and on principle, it does not seem wise expedient to encourage it. Lotteries & gambling, being both games of chance, are alike by nature & in result. The mischief arising from gambling is limited since it affects only the actual players, whereas the mischief done by lotteries is widespread. It is worse than a wager. Because, in a wager money is staked upon a contingency as to which parties are in a way able to make a forecast. But in a lottery the result is based upon a contingency about which no calculation is possible.

7) The cardinal principle underlying lotteries is the distribution of prizes by lot or chance. It is a fraud on the public & is invariably condemned.

8) If appd, the Petr will be informed that
